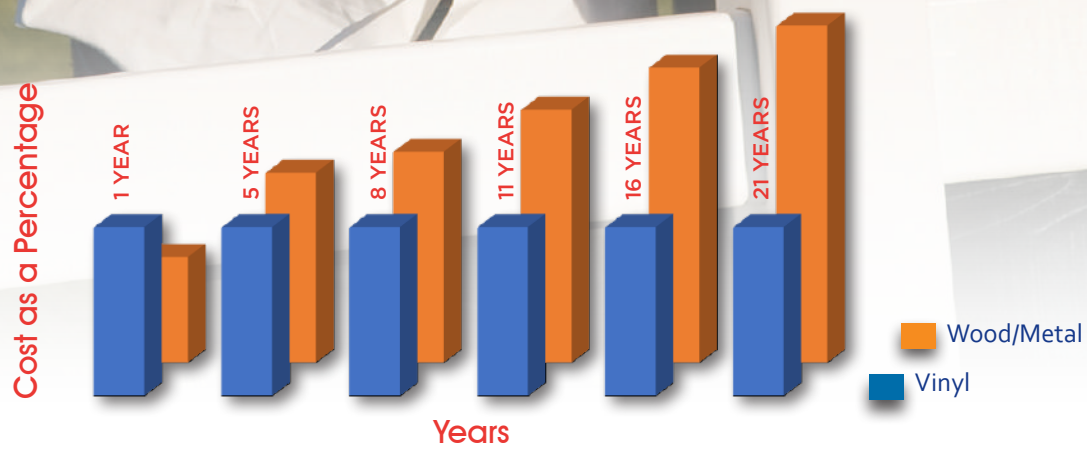
Why Quality Vinyl?

Since its introduction into the US market over 30 years ago, vinyl has become a popular choice for beautiful, durable fences, patio covers, decks, railings and more. Many homeowners choose vinyl because they know that, unlike other options, it will never rot, rust, attract termites or require painting. Contrary to what you may think, though, not all vinyl is the same. There can be a big difference in long-term performance between a low-quality offering and a well-made product.

The Cost Savings of Vinyl vs Wood/Metal over time



What to look for when choosing vinyl products

1 Vinyl Formulation

Most vinyls (especially most of the DIY fencing seen at the big box home improvement stores) are formulated for the weather in the Midwest or Northeast, not to withstand the unrelenting UV rays of the hot sun in the Southwest or the high altitude sun in the Northwest. The right high-quality vinyl for your needs will be made specifically to hold up well in the weather conditions that are common where you live.

You should also be aware that the industry standards for impact resistance, heat deflection and other physical properties are voluntary, not mandatory. While makers of high-quality vinyls will let you know that they have passed these tests, others will not mention that industry-wide quality testing exists.

2 Construction Details

It's not surprising that thin, flimsy vinyl products simply do not hold up as well as those made with thick walls. Be sure to compare the wall thickness of samples before making your choice. Also take a close look at how the parts are joined together. Does it have exposed metal hardware that is likely to rust in just a few years? Can the parts be easily pulled apart, or can you count on them holding up over time?

3 Great Value

Depending on the material and style you choose, many fencing options are expensive. However, what you may not realize is that the most expensive aspect of any fence you purchase is the upkeep and/or short life span requiring replacement. High-quality vinyl products offer the best long-term value because they stay beautiful far longer than wood or iron.

4 Design Options

Quality vinyl products such as fencing are an affordable way to upgrade your property. Look for a brand that offers a wide variety of colors and designs, with the customization options that let you create the look that you desire... and a quality level that ensures the beautiful design and color you've chosen stays that way for many years to come.

DURAMAX Building Products

Engineered For Maximum Durability™

Why Duramax?

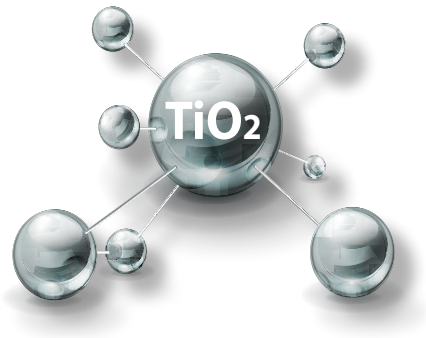
What makes Duramax "The Quality" Vinyl?

As the leading manufacturer of vinyl fencing in the Western U.S., Duramax is proud to produce the most durable vinyl fence available today. In fact, during the 25+ years that we have been manufacturing in Southern California we have perfected our line of vinyl products to meet the region's extreme weather conditions and last for decades under the intense Southwest and Northwest sun.

DURAMAX Building Products

Engineered For Maximum Durability™

Here are some of the many things that set our vinyl fencing apart:



Proprietary Material

Our proprietary DuraResin™ vinyl formulation is specifically designed to withstand the hot Southwest sun. With over 12 parts Titanium Dioxide and highly-perfected UV inhibitors, Duramax has the highest-rated UV stability and weatherability of any vinyl available today.

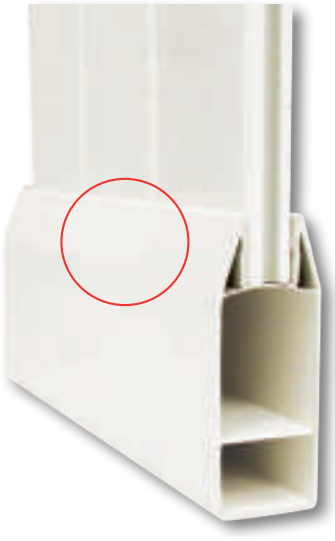
What does this mean for you? It means that you won't need to worry about your fence yellowing, and you can be sure you're getting the highest quality 100% virgin vinyl* for a durable and permanent fencing solution.

Low Maintenance

You may think that all vinyl fencing products are "low maintenance" and they are from the standpoint of keeping it clean (simply rinse it off with a hose). However, Duramax has a broader view of what "low maintenance" really is.

ASTM EXCEEDS F964 STANDARDS

We look at impact resistance, heat warpage, yellowing, cold temperature cracking and other durability characteristics that can cause maintenance problems for you. The fencing industry actually has minimum quality standards for vinyl fencing classified under ASTM F964. Duramax vinyl exceeds all the ASTM F964 standards across every category!* Ask for our technical sheets and test results to learn more (*excludes our Value Line Series).



DirtGuard™ Proprietary Bottom Rail Design

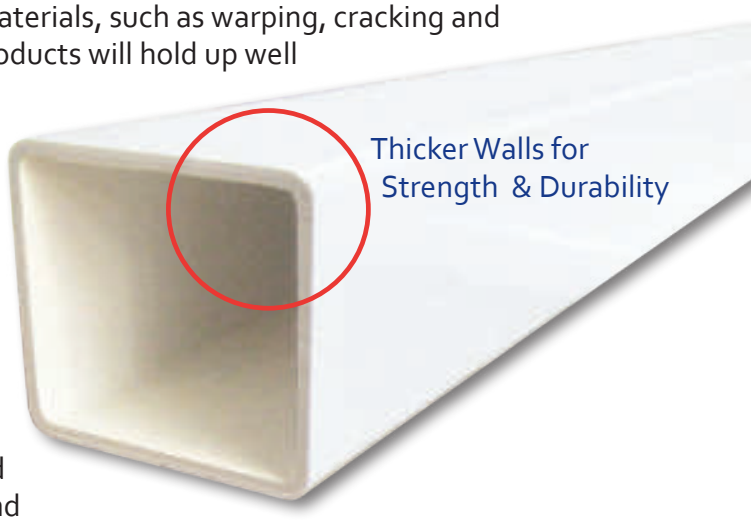
Ever notice how dirt tends to build up on the bottom rail of a fence? Our unique DirtGuard™ privacy fence bottom rail addresses this problem, with a patented design that minimizes the build-up of dirt and debris on the bottom rails across the entire perimeter of your fence.

The most durable vinyl fence available today

Durable Construction

Duramax's vinyl fencing materials all feature thicker walls for strength and durability. These thicker walls eliminate problems seen with thinner materials, such as warping, cracking and sagging, for the life of the product. Your Duramax products will hold up well for years to come.

While some manufacturers use external brackets with unsightly screws that crack, break, discolor and fail over time, we do not. All Duramax vinyl fencing is built by routing and interlocking the different fencing parts together.



Routed and interlocked members are strong and will never pull apart. When you buy Duramax, you are buying maximum durability and peace of mind.

Duramax:
- Strong Route & Lock Construction
- Superior Quality

Competitor:
- Unsightly Brackets & Screws
- Inferior Quality

Customizable Designs

While Duramax offers vinyl fencing in all of the standard styles, from white picket fences to tongue and groove privacy fencing, these are just the start of our many options for upgrading and beautifying your yard. For example, ask to see a sample of our unique DuraGrain fencing. You'll be amazed at how much it looks and feels like real wood!

Our network of local dealers and fabricators specialize in customization, and can help you choose which of the many Duramax style, color and design options will create the look you want.
